Responsibilities:

- Conduct psychological evaluations to a variety of clients, with referral questions such as: clarifying mental health diagnosis, presence of ADHD, assessing for learning disabilities
- Provide summary reports to clients in a timely manner
- Coordinate with referral sources
- Option to take on therapy clients as desired
- Options to conduct court-ordered psychological assessments, such as parent capacity evaluations, risk for re-offense, and juvenile competency to stand trial

Locations:

- Options to work in Mt. Pleasant office, Midland office, and/or via telehealth.

Qualifications:

- Licensed Psychologist - LP or LLP; MA, PsyD, or PhD in clinical or school psychology
- Ability to interact with clients in a caring, respectful, and professional way
- Good interpersonal skills
- Good written communication skills
- Knowledge of how to administer and interpret a variety of psychological assessment tools such as the WAIS, WISC, BASC, NEPSY, DKEFS, and MMPI
- Openness to learning new skills
- Ability to work independently as well as collaborate and work as part of a team

Benefits:

- Clinicians have the ability to set their own schedule and determine which cases they are interested in serving
- Supervision provided as required or upon request
- Ability to work from home

About Us:

At Hyacinth Clinical Services and Consulting, we believe in:

- Making quality mental health services as a basic human right - We strive to help make quality care accessible to all and to fill gaps in our community.
- Treating all people with respect and dignity, regardless of gender, race, ethnicity, religion, sexuality, income, or history
- Collaboration - We want to work with you to address concerns. We also believe in collaboration across disciplines and agencies to best address concerns
- Flexibility - Therapy is not a one-size-fits all endeavor. We believe in flexibility in interventions, modalities, and structure
- Continued learning - All people have ongoing potential for resiliency, change and improvement. We value continuing to gain knowledge on a daily basis as a means of self-improvement.
