

MINIMALLY INVASIVE GYNECOLOGIC SURGEON

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Mass General Brigham – Newton Wellesley Hospital is seeking to recruit a full-time, fellowship trained Minimally Invasive Gynecologic Surgeon to join our high-volume, well-established and collaborative division.

Position Highlights:

- High-volume surgical practice with dedicated OR time
- Excellent in-office resources including office hysteroscopy for diagnostic and operative procedures, ultrasound, and nursing, nurse practitioner and administrative support
- Well-established MIGS Fellowship
- Collaborative care model including a robust multi-disciplinary endometriosis team
- Integral role teaching and mentoring MIGS fellows, residents and medical students
- Opportunities for clinical and basic science research, quality improvement, innovation and collaboration
- Competitive compensation and comprehensive benefits package
- Work with great people who support each other and love what they do
- Boston is a great place to live, blending world-class healthcare and education with rich history and culture and easy access to the ocean and New England's many outdoor activities

Requirements:

- Board eligible or board certified in obstetrics and gynecology
- Completed an AAGL accredited fellowship in Minimally Invasive Gynecologic Surgery (Complex Benign Gynecology)
- Excellent clinical and surgical skills with expertise in complex laparoscopic and robotic surgery and hysteroscopy
- Exceptional work ethic
- Commitment to teaching fellows, residents and medical students
- Demonstrated interest in clinical research and a commitment to mentoring fellows in the development, execution, and publication of scholarly projects
- Three to five years of post-fellowship clinical practice preferred

Newton Wellesley Hospital is a leading academic and community hospital in the Mass General Brigham system, located in Newton, MA.

Interested candidates should submit a CV and letter of interest to:

Stephanie Morris, MD

Vice Chair Gynecology, Mass General Brigham – Newton Wellesley Hospital

snmorris@mgb.org