-  17 Stoke Hill, Bristol BS9 1JN

Our aim

- To work collaboratively within a holistic, multidisciplinary team, integrating anthroposophic medicine and therapies inspired by Ita Wegman's approach to healthcare
- To promote anthroposophic medicine in Bristol and establish Rowan Tree Centre for Health as a centre of excellence in holistic health
- To raise awareness of anthroposophic therapies nationally and internationally through our social media presence

We are looking for therapists who

- Are anthroposophically trained and interested in joining our team in Bristol
- Can work on a self-employed basis, building and growing your own client base (ideally with your own website)
- Are comfortable using modern technology and digital tools to help promote the centre locally and support wider visibility of anthroposophic medicine online
- Are available to participate in team meetings, open days and local events

Join us

If you are interested in joining a growing and vibrant holistic health centre, we would love to hear from you.
