Clinical Assistant Professor (Psychology) Position Announcement

Department of Psychology

Position Summary

The Department of Psychology at Utah State University seeks candidates for a Clinical Assistant Professor position in Psychology. This is a non-tenure track position that is eligible for promotion. Applicants will be expected to teach assessment courses within the school psychology and combined clinical/counseling graduate programs and supervise assessments in the psychology training clinic at the Sorenson Legacy Foundation Center for Clinical Excellence. Located on the main campus in Logan, Utah, this is a 1 FTE, 9-month academic year position with two summer months provided for ongoing supervision of graduate students. Effort will consist of 95% teaching/supervision and 5% service. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2025, and will continue until the position is filled. The start date is August 1, 2026. The position is contingent on a successful background check.

Position Responsibilities:

- Teach the equivalent of a 4-4 load of assessment courses and assessment supervision. Targeted courses include PSY 6310 (Intellectual Assessment), PSY 6410 (Psychoeducational Assessment), PSY 6810 (Advanced Assessment), and PSY 6380 (School Psychology Practicum).
- Supervise graduate students engaged in clinic-based evaluations of learning and neurodevelopmental concerns (e.g., specific learning disability, attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder, autism spectrum disorder) as part of an interdisciplinary team.
- Engage in service to support the needs of the school psychology program and psychology department.

Minimum Qualifications:

- A doctoral degree in Psychology from an APA- or CPA-accredited program (by August 2026).
- Ability to be licensed as a psychologist in Utah within one year of hire.
- Effective oral, written, and interpersonal skills as well as ability to work well in a team setting.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to receive Psychology license in Utah prior to start date
- Completion of an APA-accredited internship.

- Experience working in interdisciplinary teams.
- Licensed as a psychologist for at least 2 years.
- Experience and training in autism evaluations, including proficiency with the ADOS-2.
- Experience in school settings providing school psychology services.
- Experience providing clinical supervision to psychology trainees.
- History of successful university course instruction.

Along with your online application, please attach:

- A cover letter describing qualifications for the position.
- A current curriculum vitae.
