

DEPUTY POLICE CHIEF

City of Sequim

Why Apply?

Lead in a collaborative, community-focused city on Washington's North Olympic Peninsula. Sequim offers professional opportunity, strong quality of life, and a supportive workplace culture.

Sequim

City of Sequim

Sequim is a growing Olympic Peninsula community of 8,200, known for its sunshine, natural beauty, and outdoor lifestyle. Set between the Strait of Juan de Fuca, Sequim Bay, and the Olympic Mountains, it offers easy access to hiking, biking, paddling, and Olympic National Park.

Residents enjoy a relaxed, connected way of life with a walkable downtown, a strong arts and festival scene, and convenient access to beaches, trails, boating, and golf, along with regional shopping, quality schools, and nearby medical services.

Located about two hours from the central Puget Sound, Sequim serves the wider Sequim-Dungeness Valley, home to roughly 35,000 people.

City Structure and Culture

Sequim provides municipal services, including water and sewer utilities, streets and stormwater operations and maintenance, parks programming and operations, engineering, law enforcement, and community and economic development. Fire/EMS is provided by the Clallam County Fire Protection District #3, and electricity is provided by the Clallam County Public Utility District.

The City has approximately 100 employees across nine departments. The workplace culture fosters collaboration and cooperation between departments, and the City benefits from high levels of employee engagement. A full benefits package, employee wellness program, and commitment to continuous improvement make the City of Sequim a highly desirable place to work.

Deputy Police Chief

The City of Sequim is seeking a dependable, decisive leader with clear command presence, balanced by interpersonal skills that build trust and communicate effectively both internally and externally. This Deputy Chief position is a rare opportunity to join a stable, high-performing department invested in long-term success, emerging technology, professional development, and service excellence – backed by a supportive community and a strong quality of life on Washington's Olympic Peninsula.

The Position

The Deputy Chief serves as the Chief's key operational partner and second-in-command, acting in the Chief's absence. This role helps lead daily operations, personnel oversight, training, budgeting, projects, and continuous improvement while maintaining strong internal and community relationships.

The Department

Sequim PD Mission Statement:

To partner with our community in preserving the peace and reducing the incidence of crime for everyone who lives, works, and visits in our city.
